we are always more likely to speak out when we have had bad service but if it's good or as we expect we aren't as vocal, could be it's the same here this would mean that all the cheap credit in the years leading up to the crisis fed into giant bubbles of a deeply inefficient civil service, generous pensions, and unsustainable spendings in england and the Phillipines that were heavily vaccinated (97 vaccination rates in england), they had the biggest epidemics, and the most deaths
